BIG TAXES PAID—The Chapman Timber Company paid into the county treasury on Monday last the sum of $15,000.10 taxes, delinquent taxes and interest penalties to date. About $2,000 of this sum is penalties, as the company was delinquent for 1908 and 1909. The Fir Tree Lumber Company, which purchased the tract from the Chapman Company, appeared before the County Court at its last session and asked for a remission of the penalties, but this the court denied, and now the entire sum has been paid.

A NEW CHURCH, Etc.—Father Bruenagel, of Rainier, informs us that Mr. Louis Rosasco has given two lots for the purpose and that there will soon be built in St. Helens its first Catholic Church. Rev. Bruenagel appears to be a live wire. He has been in Columbia County but a short time, yet he has built at Rainier the best church edifice and parochial residence in the county, and will build one at St. Helens and one at Scappoose. In addition to this Rev. Bruenagel has secured control of a tract of land and expects to bring many good citizens here.

AN UNUSUAL STORY—The Allys-Chalmers Company has brought suit against Columbia County for $1,000. The County, some time ago, purchased from a Mr. Kurtz, who at that time was the manager of the lighting system at Clatskanie, an electric motor. Kurtz represented himself to be the owner, and there was nothing on the records to show that any one else had any claim; but it appears that the plaintiff corporation gave only a conditional bill of sale, retaining ownership until full payment had been made. Judge McBride held, in a similar case, that a note given under such conditions, was the same as a chattel mortgage, and was of no effect against an innocent purchaser unless recorded. Unless this is the law it is evident that no one can safely invest in personal property, as there is no reasonably convenient means of determining its ownership.

Mrs. Freeman sues to recover $7,500 damages for the death of her husband, who was a brakeman on the logging road of the Jennings-McKee Company and came to his death by being run into by the logging train.
